

Man, Not as Fortunate

by Dwayne Redmond

Who said it was easy being a man?

We know what women want.

We want to have lots of money,

But some of us are not as fortunate as others.

We would like to own a house and a nice car,

But some of us are not as fortunate as others.

We try to look handsome, smell nice, to be understanding,

But some of us are not as fortunate as others.

We really desire that great body with six-pack abs,

But some of us are not as fortunate as others.

We try to listen and be sensitive to women's needs,

But some of us are not as fortunate as others.

Please accept us as we are

Because we love you.

(From the book A Revelation.)
